KUU-US Crisis Line Society has developed a new indigenous and west coast café and gifts gallery in Port Alberni. We are a small profit for non-profit venture enabling us to support our community and provide the needs of those most vulnerable.

Baker/Prep Cook – Indigenous style cooking

KUU-US Café & Gifts

Port Alberni, BC.

Position: Approximately 20 to 30 Hours/Week

Wages $18.00 to $21.00/Hour

- Baking Bread, Bannock, Pies, Kitchen Prep and Some Line Cooking
- If your interested in being on the ground floor and helping us to establish a traditional and local Indigenous menu please submit your resume.

With local ingredients, unique spins on traditional flavour and fusion recipes, Indigenous cuisine is transforming the Canadian culinary scene. All across the country, Indigenous owned food businesses are serving up dishes that have a deep connection to their communities. This is what KUU-US Café and Gifts is doing right here in the Traditional Territories of the Hupacasath and Tseshaht First Nation, Port Alberni.

We are looking for someone willing to learn new skills and provide delicious foods with passion and integrity.

Please submit resume to Cindy McAnerlin – Associate Director, KUU-US Crisis Line Society
