EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Processing Plant Worker

Full-time Casual | Port Alberni, BC | $20–22/hour

Kuunaa Foods has built a cutting-edge shellfish processing facility—BC’s first dedicated High-Pressure Processing (HPP) plant for oysters. Our company has applied innovative, science-based solutions to support the development of a sustainable shellfish industry in BC and is now ready to become a leader in seafood processing.

Our mission is grounded in sustainability, innovation, and creating meaningful opportunities in coastal communities. This facility will enable safer processing, longer shelf life, and access to premium markets—bringing BC shellfish to the world.

We’re building a team that will help shape the future of seafood processing in British Columbia. We’re looking for reliable, hard-working people to join our processing team. If you take pride in doing honest work, showing up, and being treated with respect, we want to hear from you.

Why Join Us?

Be part of something new – Help launch the first HPP shellfish facility in BC

Work with purpose – Contribute to sustainable seafood and local economic growth

Stable, predictable schedules – We value your time outside of work

Learn valuable skills – Training provided in food processing and advanced equipment

Supportive team environment – Built on respect, safety, and accountability

Benefits include extended health and dental, life insurance, and opportunities for wage and career growth based on performance.

What You’ll Do

Work on the processing line handling, cleaning, sorting, and packaging shellfish products

Operate processing equipment safely and efficiently (training provided)

Maintain a clean, organized, and food-safe work environment

Follow food safety, sanitation, and workplace safety protocols at all times

Work collaboratively with your team to meet daily production targets

Assist with general plant tasks and other duties as needed

This is physical, hands-on work in a fast-paced processing environment that can be cold and wet at times.

This Role Is for You If You Are:

Reliable, punctual, and take pride in showing up ready to work

Comfortable with physical labour, including standing for long periods and lifting up to 40 lbs

A team player with a positive attitude and strong work ethic

Adaptable and willing to take on different tasks as needed

Interested in learning new skills in a growing industry

Experience in food processing, seafood, manufacturing, fishing, forestry, or general labour is an asset—but not required. We will train the right people.

Minimum Requirements

Secondary school diploma (preferred)
Ability to work flexible shifts, including occasional weekends
Valid driver's licence (asset)
Basic communication skills and ability to follow procedures
Basic record keeping and computer skills

About Port Alberni
