➤ Trades Training: Ever considered a career in the trades? The need for skilled tradespeople in B.C. is increasing, along with exciting, well-paid, employment opportunities. To work as a certified tradesperson, you need training combined with job experience. Trades training typically takes between one to five years. Most apprenticeship programs take four years. The technical training takes place in a classroom or shop setting at a public institution such as a college or institute or at an approved private training institution. To earn your “ticket” as a certified tradesperson in B.C., you must:

- Complete the required on-the-job hours and the in-school training
- Pass the examinations
- Earn the recommendation of your sponsoring employer.

➤ Who's Hiring Employer Spotlight:

With Covid-19 restrictions and safety measures in place, it isn't possible to facilitate in-person job fairs, which can give job seekers an opportunity to meet potential employers, learn about companies they're interested in and even participate in on-the-spot interviews. Instead, we held a virtual hiring fair with Alison McGee from Ucluelet Harbour Seafoods to discuss the company's job opportunities, hiring process and more. The Company is currently looking for Forklift Drivers and Production Workers for its seafood processing facility in Ucluelet, B.C.
